IN APPRECIATION

The Class of 1984 would like to express their appreciation to Mr. George H. Keller, Joseph T. Devlin, and Mr. Rocco P. Serluco.

Mr. Keller, even though you were at Girard only for our Junior and Senior years, you guided us through some troubled times. Thank you for your invitation to your house.

Mr. Devlin, thank you for being more than a teacher to us. You showed us how to have an open mind to things that we did not understand, nor have any answers to.

Mr. Serluco, thank you for helping us with both the Corinthian and Girard News. If it were not for you, we might not have had either.

Good luck in the future. Thank you for being there when we needed you.

Goodbye from the Class of 1984.

Letter from the President

To the Class of 1984 Girard College expresses appreciation for the contributions you have made to our school. It is our hope that Girard has given you faith in yourselves and a vision of service which you can render to society. You are about to enter the Alumni and to share a fellowship which is difficult for anyone to define for you. You must now become a part of a great and vital tradition.

I should like to record here the charge which has been given for many years to the members of the graduating class as part of the Commencement Exercises:

"Sons of Girard, I charge you now, and in the days to come, to be truly sons of Girard: to prove yourselves worthy of this name, never to betray the trust which the Founder placed in you; to use in the building of your lives what you have learned here--not only the knowledge gained, but the qualities of character which have been developed--an understanding of your fellow man, loyalty and devotion to country and all it represents, and love and reverence for your God. You may not all have the opportunity to be heroes, but you can all manifest nobility of character. You may not all bring forth world-shaking ideas, but you can all express intelligence and integrity and loving kindness. Just as the lives of those Girardians who have preceded you may serve as an inspiration to you, so may you, in turn, not only inspire the generations of Girardians which are to follow, but be an influence for good upon all whom your lives will touch."

May your achievements bring honor to you and to Girard College and may life be good to you!

John A. Lander
President

Message from Mr. Keller

To the Class of 1984:

It is always difficult to say, "Goodbye," and I have given you all the advice I have to offer. I can honestly say that you have grown and matured tremendously in the last few months of your senior year. Individually and as a class you possess considerable talent and potential in many and varied areas. You have begun to recognize your personal responsibility for developing that potential and to open yourselves to others who can and want to assist you.

You are entering a new and far more competitive arena whether it be college, technical school, or the work force. You will be judged almost solely on two related criteria - attitude, and results. American businesses and institutions have been floundering under the burden of low productivity. By that, I mean workers and producers are not committed to doing their best on the job, of turning out the finest product possible, of giving of themselves beyond what is absolutely required of them. Pride is the rather old-fashioned word for what is lacking - pride in oneself, in the product of one's skill and labor.

There are many signs that the situation is beginning to change. You will have a great advantage if you decide that, to paraphrase the Reverend Jesse Jackson, you are somebody, if you are proud of who and what you are, and if you will settle for no less than the best you are capable of doing whether it be on an academic assignment or a job assignment.

You have my fondest best wishes. May God bless each of you.

The students of the print shop have completed another great year of productivity, originality, and talent. They have succeeded in completing all tasks required of them throughout the year, thus enabling them to have the true knowledge of actual printing production. The print shop takes great pride in the number of students who further their careers in this field.

The Class of 1984 did a splendid job in preparing this book and the many other publications prepared by them. I know many in this class will succeed early in life and I wish the entire class my sincerest congratulations.

This year the business course at Girard was reinstated after a two year absence. Although the business courses had previously been the least popular of the vocational trades, this year's was competitive in number with any other shop. In business the students learned skills in typing, computer science, and accounting.

Farewell and good luck next year.

Letter from the Senior Class President

Classmates,

We, the Class of 1984, will never be forgotten, either as a class or as individuals. Each person in the class helps to make up the character of the class. As a class we were willing to work with the staff and the Administration and to learn from past experiences, both successes and failures. As individuals the class is made up of many somewhat serious people, some of whom admit to it and some who do not. This is not negative but positive. If it was not for the somewhat serious Girard would have been dead. Everyone in the class has achieved high goals either on the athletic field or in the classroom and we will continue to achieve our goals.

Our class has a strong bond of unity, which makes us unique. Classes before have also had strong bonds, but not as strong as ours. We support each other as brothers and we are willing to learn and succeed. There has not been a class like "1984", and never will there be another.

I have enjoyed having the opportunity of serving as the Senior Class President. I hope I have lived up to your expectations. Remember, to be successful, set goals and work to achieve them. If they are your goals, your work will make you happy. Even setbacks can be opportunities for growth.

Good luck.

May God be with you.

Letter from the Student Body President

Fellow Girardians,

It has been a great pleasure to serve as your president this year. This position has been a challenging but wonderful experience. I've learned many things about Girard which I'd never realized before.

Currently Girard is in a rebuilding stage and is becoming a very competitive school. This year was the first step in that direction. The school's many positive accomplishments are visible proof of that. There are still many factors that need to be improved before Girard reaches her goals such as, improving school spirit, fostering a more positive attitude towards Girard, setting higher academic goals, etc. Although these goals may seem unimportant to you, they can turn Girard around completely if they are achieved. With the help of the future teachers and you these goals can surely be accomplished. Girard and its students have the potential to become one of the best in this part of the country, and they will if each student directs himself to that goal. You are not asked to all become honor-roll students or outstanding athletes; all you're asked to do is to be yourself and work to be outstanding in whatever you do best. In other words have a definite goal. Having a goal will motivate you through Girard and also life.

Take advantage of the opportunities which are available here to you. These advantages are not available to many. Since you and your education are extremely important make the most out of Girard. Take more that it's given. In your mind only you should be important, so don't let any interference get in your way towards success.

In conclusion I would like to thank Mr. Joseph Devlin who served as the faculty advisor to the student council. He was always there regardless of his valuable time to help and guide the school towards its goals.

I would also like to show my gratitude to everyone who supported my efforts throughout this school year. On the behalf of my class I would like to wish you all luck and may God guide you throughout life. "Have faith and farewell" from the Class of "84". God bless you all.

Maturity is the ability to control anger, and settle differences without violence or destruction.

Maturity is patience, the willingness to pass up immediate pleasure in favor of the long-term gain.

Maturity is perserverance, sweating out a project in spite of opposition and discouraging setbacks.

Maturity is unselfishness, responding to the needs of others.

Maturity is the capacity to face unpleasantness and dissappointment without becoming bitter.

Maturity is humility. A mature person is able to say, "I am sorry." And when he is proved right he does not say, "I told you so."

Maturity means dependability, integrity, keeping one's word. The immature have excuses for everything. They are the chronically lardy, the no-shows, the gutless wonders who fold in the crisis. Their lives are a maze of broken promises, unfinished business and former friends.

Maturity is the ability to live in place with that which we cannot change

Only in time shall we find what was meant to be: we laugh then cry and wonder why "This always happens to me."

This time we have we're happy then sad and in this time we're sometimes mad, but that isn't the way it should be, because in this time we shall find our true eternity.

Ambition: To make a happy life for myself while dedicating my services to helping others.

In this industrious world, school is hard and life is hard. But these are things we have to cope with as growing adults. I've learned from my years here that only hard work in all we do gives us something to be proud of. This is true in athletics and academics.

There will be times when we feel alone in a situation with our backs against the wall. If we can combat these feelings and overcome these obstacles, then we have accomplished the goals set before us in our beginning school years.

Never limit yourself by expecting too little of yourself. Set high goals and achieve them!

Mankind is walking on thin ice...that's how it is today...we must be careful what we do...and weigh each thing we say...for there are those among us...just waiting for the chance...to use the sword of ridicule...or look someone askance...hatred is running rampant...seems its the latest style...some find it second nature...to twist and to beguile...yet time and time again we find...people in a noose...all because they did not think...before they let loose...so we must be diligent...avoid crowds and the like...there are many serpents...always prone to strike...such is the situation...we're treading on thin ice...digest what I've written...I'm sure it's good advice

The road to hell was paved with good intentions.

Thank you Aunt Beckie and Cousin Rosetta for getting me into such a fine school

*Yesterday's gone, Tomorrow looms ahead.
The future is our's, because the past is dead.
Weigh everything you do, not in silver but in gold.
And go about doing it, not timidly but bold.
"Look before you leap" may be an old cliché.
But in this world of sin, this you must obey
As we brothers go on in life, I must tell you this.
Good luck in everything you do, and may God bless.*

On September 12, 1983, I met with the candidates for the Varsity soccer team on the Varsity soccer field. The first thing I said was that since we didn't have an organized soccer team at Girard in 1982, it would mean starting from scratch. I had only four days to get the fellows in good, physical playing condition for the first game. To make it a winning team, all I asked from them was cooperation, and we could pull through. I received their assurance and we started with skills and drills, both individual and pattern plays. I was very pleased at the way the players caught on so quickly and it allowed me to hurry from one drill to the next. By the end of the season our team was playing like pros. Their behavior was excellent and they were a credit to Girard College.

We, Girard College, have two firsts to celebrate. The first one is that I, James (Jimmie) Mills, experienced coaching a 100% colored starting team for the first time in my career. The other first is that Girard won the Penn-Jersey Soccer League Championship with that same combination for the first time in the history of the league.

I am very pleased and proud of my achievements in my career and in the 1983 season. With so many sophomores on the team, I am already looking forward to another No. 1 spot in the Penn-Jersey League in 1984. All I can say is thanks for a job well done and good luck to the graduating seniors.

The cross-country team had a rebuilding year in '83 after recovering from a strike year, which cancelled the '82 season, and also the loss of three top runners; Tony Williams (undefeated in the Penn-Jersey in '81), Ken Annand, and Rich Bennett.

With the loss of leadership, I had to guess who would be on the team for the '83 season; and to my surprise, came Garrett Brisbane (a senior), who filled Tony William's shoes as he also went undefeated in the Penn-Jersey in '83 and also set a new course record of 15:59 for three miles, shattering Tony William's old record. The team overall had three wins and eleven losses. Also, I have found a solid nucleus for the future with Jonathon Stewart (9th grader), Mike Smith (7th grader), Fred Demski (7th grader), Mike Swords (9th grader), Frank Lewis (10th grader), Scott Bennett (10th grader), Dimitri Thorpe (10th grader), Adam O'Donnell (8th grader), Mark Andrews (8th grader), and holding them together was Tyrone Patton - Manager.

This year's Maroon Platoon started with eighteen members. Everything seemed fine until members dropped out one after another for academic reasons. After a few dual matches into the season, The Platoon shrank to 6 full-time members. These dedicated young wrestlers entered matches in which they had given up 36 points due to empty spots. But that didn't discourage these soldiers. They won individually one after another.

Toward the end of the season in a dual meet with PSD, The Rally Cup which has been passed between Girard and their school for many years was won by Girard. This was a great encouragement when they entered The Penn-Jersey Championships. Only three were victorious. They were Ali Atefi, Steve Holland, and Odell Kyler, who showed their true inner strength and dedication.

Good luck to next year's young team. They show a great deal of hope for a championship team.

Going into the season, the coaching staff knew we had our work ahead of us. We also felt we had the talent, if not the experience, to play with anyone.

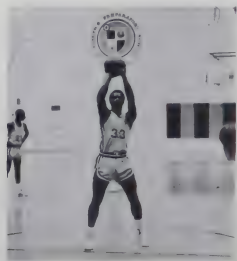

After going 0-4, the team proved that we really did have the talent and was starting to gain the experience. We won the next four games to even our record, but more importantly we became the champions of the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf Christmas Tournament. In becoming the champions we beat a team which had beaten us just six days before.

This set the tone for the rest of the season. The team worked and played some very good basketball. For a team of young people who were not supposed to achieve very much, a 14-14 record, a Christmas Tournament Championship, and a trip to the playoffs is very nice season indeed.

I thank the squad for their hard work, dedication, cooperation, and staying off of ineligibility. I look forward to a better season next year.

Good luck to the Class of 1984.

This year the majority of the members were young and inexperienced. They greatly improved their skills as the season progressed. Both the swimmers and divers refined their techniques and developed more strength and confidence. If they continue to improve at the same rate, Girard will have some top swimmers and divers in a few years.

Good luck to the Class of 1984.

Mr. Robert Farber

Hockey

This year the hockey team again became champions of the Challenge Cup Series between Girard and Glen Mills. Although the seniors were kept from participating in the middle of the season, the team still held together and finished with a winning record of 6 - 1. The '84 - '85 team should again become champions with the excellent talent the team will still have.

Farewell and good luck next year.

Baseball

This year the Varsity Baseball team had a new coach, Mr. Joseph Gibbons, and he has done a magnificent job with this very young team. They are undefeated in the Penn-Jersey Conference with an 8-0 record and heading for a Championship year. Not only would this be the first championship for a Girard Baseball team in years but also the first winning season in some time. This baseball team has made Girard proud and proud it will stay with most of its members returning next season.

Thank you Mr. Gibbons and good luck next year.

The members of the 1984 Girard College varsity track team once again upheld their winning ways, although we didn't win the Penn-Jersey Championships. The soldiers finished four points behind Katzenback to become the 1984 runner-ups, but it was no easy win. As usual, we took it to the wire.

I'd like to thank my young men for a job well done. Although we'll be losing our four top scorers: Garrett Brisbane, Steven McLeod, Arthur Coleman, and Robert Lee, we'll return next year.

Coach Jackson

Tennis

This year's Tennis team was under the guidance of Coach Ricky Saddler. The team's record was better this year than in the past recent years with us winning a few matches and scoring much higher in the Penn-Jersey Championships. This year's team shows great promise for the future and should become a top contender come time for the '85 championship.

Farewell and good luck next year.
